

Why is access free for academic users?

Last Modified on 18/02/2026 5:24 am EST

Free for academic users? What's the catch?

Don't worry — we're not spying on you or selling your data. There's no hidden clause or surprise fees coming later. We've developed great technology and we want as many scientists as possible to have access to it to increase the speed of scientific discovery.

We're able to support our business by charging for-profit companies for enterprise licenses that offer more advanced and custom features required in the industry setting.